VIRTUAL LUNCHTIME SERIES

Civil Society and Plurality in Israel

Join us for a year-long virtual lunchtime series on Civil Society and Plurality in Israel. We are hearing from remarkable scholars about critical social and political issues and movements in Israeli society, including questions of religion, gender, nationality, multiculturalism, pluralism, and equality.

ELISHEVA ROSMAN-STOLLMAN

SESSION 4

Gender, Religion, and the Military in Israel

TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 2022 | 12:40PM – 2PM PT

Elisheva Rosman-Stollman will join in conversation with Ronit Stahl to discuss her work on religion and gender in the Israeli military, including questions of gender equality, religious accommodation, and the legitimization of religious female soldiers.

ELISHEVA ROSMAN-STOLLMAN Associate Professor of Political Science, Bar-Ilan University

RONIT STAHL Associate Professor of History, UC Berkeley
